FOREWORD

The FY 84 Army Study Program presented herein includes command and agency study agendas for Fiscal Year 84. This year's edition of The Army Study Program (TASP) expands and improves upon the format adopted last year, and is intended to complement the two volume edition published by this office entitled Management Support Services which details efforts conducted under the aegis of AR 5-14, Managing Analytical Support Services. Taken together, these delineate the efforts managed by the Study Program Management Office under the overall title of Consultants, Studies and Management Support Services (CSAMSS).

Volume I of The Army Study Program (TASP) contains a description of this year's study program in terms of Total Army Goals. A macro-analytical approach has once again been taken in an attempt to portray the direction taken by the Army study community in responding to the needs of the Army in terms of TOTAL ARMY GOALS and Performance Management Army. In addition to the analysis of the current program initiated with last year's TASP, a comparison of the FY 84 program and the FY 83 program is made. An overview of the total program is presented, illustrating the manner in which all of the goals are addressed, and provides information on the program in terms of key parameters such as combat application, payback, study status and performance method.

Within Volume II, much of the data contained in former editions of the TASP is presented, albeit in new and hopefully more usable formats. Listings of individual studies, statistical data pertaining to those studies, and study points of contact are included. More detailed information about each study is also presented, to include study description, resource level, combat application, expected end use, and relationship to each of the TOTAL ARMY GOALS.

The appendices provide listings of Army Study Coordinators with office symbol, telephone numbers, and location (Appendix A), points of contact for DOD studies and analysis (Appendix B), and the Distribution List (Appendix C).
